This cross-sectional view illustrates a complex multi-layered assembly. At the top, a large rectangular block (108) is positioned above a series of layers including 138, 140, 104, 134, and 126. Below these is a textured layer (120) containing a central component (110) and a surrounding structure (122). A wavy line (118) is located below the textured layer. The bottom section features a series of layers including 114, 216, 212, 206, 224, 205, 203, 110, and 120. A central component (207) is shown within the textured layer (120). The entire assembly is supported by a base layer (206).
